

BYLAWS OF THE CAROLINAS ASSOCIATION OF GOVERNMENTAL PURCHASING

(As Amended through June 2008)

The Carolinas Association of Governmental Purchasing

History

In 1952 the Carolina members of the National Institute of Governmental Purchasing, Inc. saw the need for an organization in the Carolinas that would devote itself to improvement of purchasing techniques by public purchasing officials. At that time the National Institute of Governmental Purchasing, with its headquarters in Washington, D.C., encouraged its members to organize chapters to operate under its existing rules and regulations. An organizational meeting was held April 24, 1953. After the organizational meeting, officers were elected, bylaws were adopted and they operated as a chapter of the National Institute of Governmental Purchasing. In 1959, The Carolinas Association of Governmental Purchasing withdrew from NIGP and has from that date been affiliated with and operated from the Institute of Government, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In 2003, the CAGP, realizing a need to offer additional training for its members, reinstated its chapter affiliation with NIGP. The CAGP now operates as Chapter #86 of the NIGP while continuing to be affiliated with and headquartered at the School of Government at UNC-CH. The CAGP started with 20 charter members in 1953; membership around 250 in the late 1980's and entered the millennium with 400 members.

HALL-WICKER AWARD

The Hall-Wicker award was established by the Carolinas Association of Governmental Purchasing (CAGP) to recognize outstanding contributions and service to the cause and advancement of the purchasing profession. It jointly honors the late Warren "Jake" Wicker and the late W. T. "Tom" Hall, Jr. Below is a very brief summary of their contributions and accomplishments.

Tom Hall was a purchasing agent's purchasing agent, a true professional in his work, a leader in purchasing organizations and a model public servant. As purchasing agent for the Town of Cary, North Carolina, he was a tireless innovator, directing his energy toward new ways to make purchasing more efficient and effective. He was a leader within the state in areas such as paperless purchasing, cooperative purchasing, use of procurement cards, and privatization of vehicle maintenance supplies. He also developed numerous proposals for legislative changes to improve the laws governing public purchasing and worked hard to win their passage.

In addition to his service to his unit, Tom devoted immeasurable efforts to increasing opportunities for professional development for purchasing agents. He served in most of the offices of the Carolinas Association of Governmental Purchasing and was its president in 1986. He was instrumental in establishing the Certified Local Government Purchasing officer program in 1985 and served as chairman of the professional development and certification committees for many years. Tom obtained his CLGPO and C.P.M. certifications and encouraged both his employees and his colleagues to pursue their education and certification.

Jake Wicker retired from the Institute of Government at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1991 after serving on the faculty for over 40 years. From 1991 to 2003 he continued to work on projects for local governments across the state in his many areas of expertise. Jake was instrumental in the founding of the CAGP and in the development of a substantial curriculum in purchasing at the Institute of Government for North Carolina public officials. During his tenure at the Institute, Jake was the primary resource and authority on purchasing law and practice, answering numerous telephone inquiries on a daily basis, and giving accurate information and practical guidance. Jake's unique gift to those who have been fortunate enough to know and work with him is his dedication to excellence.

Jake was known for both his sense of humor and high integrity, combined with his personal commitment to and compassion for his students and colleagues. There is no question that hundreds of purchasing officials hold Jake Wicker responsible for their personal and professional success and considered him a mentor, friend, and colleague. Both private and public purchasing officials who had the opportunity to know and learn from Jake Wicker have expressed the highest respect for his work and contribution to the purchasing profession.

The Hall-Wicker award consists of a plaque and a $200.00 savings bond to be given annually at the CAGP Spring Conference.
